

Undergraduate Research Conference winners announced

Nineteen students in eight categories received recognition and cash awards as winners of S&T's 16th annual Undergraduate Research Conference, held virtually in April. The conference featured oral and poster exhibitions that represented work from students in nearly every academic major at S&T. First-place winners were awarded a cash prize of $500. Second- and third-place finishers received $250 and $100, respectively.

The winners and their faculty advisors on the projects are:

Arts and humanities oral presentation

- Second place: Anthony Watson, a senior in history from Waynesville, Missouri, advised by Petra Dewitt, associate professor of history and political science.

Engineering oral presentation

- First place: Derrick Barger, a senior in mechanical engineering from Willard, Missouri, advised by Dr. Jonghyun Park, associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering.
- Second place: Peter Holtmann, a senior in electrical engineering from Springfield, Missouri, advised by Dr. Jie Huang, assistant professor of electrical and computer engineering.
- Third place: Maria Galbraith, a senior in engineering management from Jefferson City, Missouri, advised by Dr. Casey Canfield, assistant professor of engineering management and systems engineering.

Sciences oral presentation

- First place: Steven Karst, a junior in physics from Ballwin, Missouri, advised by Dr. Shun Saito, assistant professor of physics.
- Second place: Anthony Lonsdale, a junior in physics from Liberty, Missouri, advised by Dr. Aleksandr Chernatynskiy, assistant professor of physics.
- Third place: Daniel Greenan, a senior in chemistry from St. Peters, Missouri, advised by Dr. Chariklia Sotiriou-Leventis, professor of chemistry.

Arts and humanities poster presentation

- First place: Jessi Schoolcraft, a senior in environmental engineering from Willard, Missouri, advised by Dr. Audra Merfeld-Langston, chair and professor of arts, languages, and philosophy.
- Second place: Dylan Clay, senior in aerospace engineering from Republic, Missouri, advised by Dr. Diana Ahmad, Curators' Distinguished Teaching Professor of history and political science.
- Third place – Nikola Andric, a senior in computer science from Uzice, Serbia, advised by Dr. Diana Ahmad, Curators' Distinguished Teaching Professor of history and political science.

Engineering poster presentation

- First place: James Kirtley, a senior in chemical engineering from Wildwood, Missouri, advised by Dr. Xinhua Liang, associate professor of chemical and biological engineering.
- Second place: Hattie Matthews, a senior in architectural engineering from Muskogee, Oklahoma, and Divyesh Shelar, a senior in architectural engineering from Rolla, advised by Dr. Stuart Baur, associate professor of civil, architectural and environmental engineering.
